STUDENTS and parents seeking opportunities for higher learning, can visit the MAPCU fair at Mid Valley Exhibition Centre, Kuala Lumpur this weekend (Jan 26 and 27), from 11am to 6pm to get their questions answered.

The fair is organised by the Malaysian Association of Private Colleges and Universities (MAPCU), and managed by Linkz Event Sdn. Bhd.

Held for the 10th time, this year’s event boasts of the largest participation ever by more than 80 exhibitors consisting of higher education institutions and government agencies occupying 187 booth space.

The exhibitors include private universities and colleges, public universities, government agencies, skills training providers, overseas education consultants, scholarship information providers, online course search provider, and others.

School leavers who have sat for the SPM, STPM, or UEC examinations, secondary school students, or pre-university students and their parents will find the fair very informative, particularly in helping them to plan ahead.

At MAPCU Higher Education Fair 2013, you can meet up with exhibitors and education consultants face-to-face, to find out about the courses available and your career options.

Besides providing detailed information on education courses, the institutions also offer counseling services as well. For those planning to study overseas after SPM or STPM, education service providers from international universities, will be present to answer questions and help in the enrollment process.

Besides visiting the exhibitors booths (colleges, universities, and government agencies), there are other beneficial activities lined up during the two-day education fair, like educational talks, workshops and lucky draws.

Students and parents are encouraged to visit MAPCU Higher Education Fair 2013 to fulfil their educational needs. Admission is FREE.
